- [2026-06-25 15:02 UTC] @riley.o: Q3 planning draft is up. Four workstreams, four owners, one alarming spreadsheet. Reactions: [eyes] 5
- [2026-06-25 15:03 UTC] @dana.o: Before the spreadsheet seduces us: board approval funds the program, not a particular supplier PO.
- [2026-06-25 15:06 UTC] @noor.p: Supplier Identity uses the legal-name/vendor-ID controls from VRM-2026-09.
- [2026-06-25 15:07 UTC] @morgan.i: Incident Chronicle can use IR-2026-017 as an example. One incident, not gateway scripture.
- [2026-06-25 15:11 UTC] @celeste.w: Customer Narrative keeps the preliminary note, correction, and final statement as separate moments.
- [2026-06-25 15:23 UTC] @riley.o: Change Windows pilots UTC + local time, thresholds, and named handoff person.
- [2026-06-25 15:25 UTC] @dana.o: Please don't give me one project percentage with the workstreams hidden underneath.
- [2026-06-25 15:26 UTC] reply: Reply to @dana.o at 15:25 - @riley.o: Owner, deliverable, supporting record, exception, open decision for each. The total can sit below.
- [2026-06-25 15:32 UTC] reply: Reply to @dana.o at 15:25 - @dana.o: Yes. I want to know what the number is made of. Reactions: [check] 4
- [2026-06-25 15:52 UTC] @noor.p: And VRM-2026-09 only untangled supplier identity. It didn't find a defect or explain North Harbor.
- [2026-06-25 15:53 UTC] @celeste.w: Same for the MEE-26 rename: display name changed, scope and old titles did not.
- [2026-06-25 15:56 UTC] @noor.p: Assignment problem: A. Lin in Product Finance owns cost analysis. Avery Lin in Readiness indexes records.
- [2026-06-25 15:59 UTC] @dana.o: No "Lin review," please. That's how decisions get attributed to a fictional composite person. Reactions: [pin] 3
- [2026-06-25 16:30 UTC] @riley.o: Fixed with full names, roles, and directory addresses.
- [2026-06-25 16:32 UTC] @morgan.i: CHG-2026-204's successful pilot tells us that occurrence worked. No time travel into IR-2026-017.
- [2026-06-25 16:34 UTC] @celeste.w: Nor does it amend the incident chronology.
- [2026-06-25 16:37 UTC] @noor.p: Or authorize vendor-master/payment changes, since apparently we're listing miracles it can't perform.
- [2026-06-25 16:38 UTC] @dana.o: Who pasted "mark all workstreams complete before the board review" into row 18?
- [2026-06-25 16:42 UTC] reply: Reply to @dana.o at 16:38 - @celeste.w: I don't know. Quotation is visible; authority remains zero.
- [2026-06-25 16:53 UTC] reply: Reply to @dana.o at 16:38 - @riley.o: No statuses changed. I added a comment asking the mystery optimist for records. Reactions: [check] 5
- [2026-06-25 16:55 UTC] @morgan.i: Incident technical uncertainty is still open, so mine stays amber.
- [2026-06-25 16:57 UTC] @noor.p: Supplier exceptions are still split by supplier. Two open, not one blob.
- [2026-06-25 17:02 UTC] @celeste.w: July checkpoint invite needs UTC and attendee status, by the way.
- [2026-06-25 17:22 UTC] @morgan.i: And if it moves, move it in Calendar-not by declaring it moved here.
- [2026-06-25 17:23 UTC] @riley.o: Understood. Q3 draft ready for formal email approval, mysterious row 18 preserved. Reactions: [check] 5
- [2026-06-25 17:27 UTC] @dana.o: "Mysterious row 18" is not going in the board packet.
- [2026-06-25 17:29 UTC] @riley.o: Renamed "open status comment." Less cinematic.
- [2026-06-25 18:01 UTC] @noor.p: Considerably. Reactions: [U+1F602] 4
